We have guests from nature too!

Belek Coast is a rare destination for Caretta Caretta turtles to lay eggs and one of the few starting points of their reproduction cycle. The beaches of our hotel are one of the rare lucky facilities that host such a rare event, which is witnessed by our guests time to time. Due to our belief in nature and respect to the environment, we are pursuing extremely sensitive policies to be the home of Caretta Carettas. For their hatching times, we maintain quiet activities on our beaches for our valuable visitors and witness this precious miracle together with our guests.

We'd also like to witness this event which will reinforce your children's respect for the nature and the environment together with you.
